Changes Depict New Year

Change is what many students will remember when they reminisce about the 1982-83 school year, particularly beginning the year with a college-style registration.

Although changes began in May 1982 with the first signs of constructing "the fence," students overlooked this addition to the campus as choices in classes, schedules, and teachers were introduced to students by the new principal, Skip Casey. The grumbling from the previous year of the additional lockers replacing the use of cars in the parking lot subsided as the spirit of the student body accelerated as the year progressed.

As the pace of classes, exams, and studying became a reality, it marked another year of excellence, graduating the twenty-fifth class of Central High School.

Rallies Spark Excitement

As each Friday rolled around, excitement grew as students looked forward to the weekly pep rally. Various organizations prepared for the special day as they composed skits, choreographed dance routines, and learned new music.

Spirit signs that decorated the gym displayed the creativity and support of the Bobcat Boosters that began early in the week. Cheerleaders coordinated all the activities into a spirit show to boost student morale.

All the hard work paid off each Friday during football season as echoes rang throughout the gym for the 5-A district champions and area championship team. A pep rally during basketball season helped promote spirit for the bi-district champions.

Bonfire Ignites Fans' Spirit

The bonfire signified the symbol of the traditional Bobcat-Mojo challenge. Each year the Key Club works diligently to build a towering stack of wood to be burned the night before the football game.

During the week, each member of the Key Club hauled, stacked, and guarded the pile of wood. Thursday night before the game, the pile of wood burned during the rally as the spirit of the crowd ignited. Junior Class officers took advantage of this event to promote their annual slave auction to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom. The highest price paid for a slave was $45 for John Brunson by Jane Allen, both seniors.

Crowning Highlights Week

Prior to the homecoming festivities, the excitement of the annual event began with clubs spending many late nights decorating floats for the parade.

As the nominees for homecoming queen were announced, the anticipation of the annual event inflated as students began planning their reunion with CHS alumni at the traditional pep rally. Former cheerleaders joined the festivities by leading a chant for the visitors and student body.

That night the anticipation swelled until the long awaited half-time activities. The moment arrived ... Lari Grider was crowned 1982 Homecoming Queen. An 8-0 victory over Abilene High topped off an evening of gaiety, followed by the Student Council sponsored dance at the San Angelo Country Club.

Feast Stages 'Magic Time'

Punks, Romans, bums, cowboys, and cowgirls raided the Knights of Columbus Hall in February at the annual Favorites Banquet.

Sponsored by the Student Council, the banquet followed a "Magic Time Machine" theme. Participants were able to choose their seating arrangement at the banquet, according to their costume: western, oriental, punk rock, Roman, smutsville, caveman, and Hawaiian.

Nominees were presented by various teachers who were representative of the past. Winners were presented trophies while nominees received certificates.

A new category was added this year to represent Most Preppy, Worst Driver, Best Partier, Most Spirited, Most Airhead, and Best Student Body.

Lovers Create Laughter

On the stage students turned into witches, pilgrims, Indians, and lovers to entertain the community during the year.

In the fall Shelley Roberts and Brent Jenkins portrayed newly weds in "Barefoot in the Park." The humor revealed the complexities involved in sharing their lives together. In November "The Crucible" brought witches into action by describing the witch trials of Salem. The winter season introduced a cast of Indians in "Little Mary Sunshine." This musical was co-produced by the orchestra, choir, and drama departments.

During the spring break, the UIL cast worked on "The Importance of Being Earnest." This play was awarded Best Back Stage Crew while Brent Jenkins was named Honorable Mention to the All-Star Cast.

Students Learn and Earn

With a large pizza costing $10, a show ticket $4, Calvin Klein jeans $42, and gasoline over $1 a gallon, many students found a way to afford these luxuries . . . employment.

Approximately 1000 students were enrolled in vocational training classes . . . to earn and learn at the same time. An additional 75 plus students obtained work permits to leave school an hour early in order to earn additional money.

Working students sacrificed some social activities in order to afford the necessities of life, such as designer jeans, car payments, and stereo equipment. Unfortunately, some students found working late hours at night interfered with their studies . . . or their studies may have interfered with their late night hours.

Rodeo Springs Into Gear

Rodeo week annually signifies the beginning of spring break.

During this spring vacation students were able to take in one of the oldest sports in history — the rodeo. Although professional cowboys and cowgirls competed in this annual event, some students geared up for the old West by participating in the rodeo parade and grand entry, especially the members of the newly organized Rodeo Club.

For those who left their boots at home, many participated by sitting behind the chutes, cheering the cowboys and cowgirls.

Prom Creates Mystique

The clinking of glasses, the smell of flowers, and the rustling of long gowns all added to the atmosphere which created "masque enchantment", the theme of the 1983 prom.

This campus social event took months of planning and several fund-raising projects by the Junior Class officers and sponsors, Mrs. Billie McCarroll and Mrs. Jan Watkins. As this group began decorating the day before the May 6 prom, they saw their efforts transform the San Angelo Convention Center into a ballroom . . . and a night to remember.

Carrie Vines and Vince Sikes were named Prom Queen and King. Duchesses that were presented to the court were juniors Kathy Barnes, Leslie Fleming, Patti Kisor, Diane Luther, and Sherry Revell.

May — One Step Closer!

Twelve years of planning, dreaming, and waiting for graduation became more of a reality in May with preparations for final senior activities.

Reality struck the Senior Class as the graduation invitations were picked up, addressed, and mailed. As caps and gowns were distributed, graduation became one step closer. To recognize outstanding students, the annual awards assembly again reminded seniors that the end was near. The Senior Banquet and countless other graduation parties during May confirmed that graduation was more than a figment of the imagination!

Raindrops Keep Falling . . .

Although an appropriate song for any graduation is the alma mater, the graduates of 1983 could have claimed "Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head."

As the blue stream of 600 plus robed graduates marched rhythmically into San Angelo Stadium at 6:30 p.m., bluish-black clouds formed a backdrop behind the graduates. During the commencement address of Rev. James Lee Carter of St. Luke Methodist Church, the honored students saw a rainbow appear. To the superstitious, this rainbow could have signified hope for a bright future. To others, their hopes may have been for a graduation ceremony the class had rehearsed — free from rain.

During the presentation of diplomas, Suzy Fulton and Charles Galles were announced valedictorian and salutatorian. However, the pace of the presentation accelerated as a mist interrupted the ceremony. While the "G's" were being announced, the rain began to pour. Above the stirring of the crowd, Principal Skip Casey announced the conclusion of graduation 1983.

As a few graduates clutched their rain-soaked diplomas, many of their classmates hurled their blue caps into the sky. The rain did not appear to dampen the spirits of the drenched graduates who saw the end to a 12-year reign in striving for a goal — graduation 1983.

Council Plans Activities

Providing campus activities, as well as guiding and representing the student body, were accomplished by the Student Council. These students were elected by their fellow classmates to represent them throughout the year.

Along with organizing homecoming activities, the February Twirp Week activities and Favorites Banquet, and the March Blood Drive, the Student Council was also responsible for campus elections. Officers and senators spent their lunch period and after school at the voting booths, checking student ID's for election of favorites, homecoming queen, and Student Council positions.

The Student Council also participated in community projects, such as "Project Santa" which gave homeroom classes opportunities to supply food for needy families during the Christmas season.

Members of the council also worked a concession stand at the basketball games.

Copy Reflects Anniversary

Twenty-five years were celebrated through the issues of the 'Campus Corral' and throughout the pages of the 'Westerner'.

Kick-off assemblies and drawings for prizes and a balloon ride helped promote the sales of the silver edition of the 'Westerner'. Editor Jane Allen and advisor Patsy Maddux worked with the staff on a re-building program, adding more pages, color pictures, and a centerfold.

Entertaining and informing the school was the job of the re-built 'Campus Corral'. Mrs. Maddux led the staff to earn the Award of Achievement in UIL journalism competition. Reaching new heights through in-depth features and news stories, the 'Campus Corral' was able to make an impact on student involvement.

First year students concentrated on news and feature writing while experienced staff members' main duties involved in-depth feature and headline writing.

Groups Support Bobcats

Two service organizations that assisted with the Bobcat spirit were the Key Club and Bobcat Boosters.

Planning the traditional bonfire was the Key Club's major project. Members collected wood throughout the week and guarded the collection until the Thursday night rally to roast Mojo.

Throughout football and basketball season, the Bobcat Boosters assisted the cheerleaders in promoting school spirit. The group spent many Thursday nights and Friday mornings decorating the gym for pep rallies. Twenty-five members were recognized for their efforts by being awarded letters at the annual football banquet.

Speech Enhances Abilities

Speech and drama allowed students opportunities to enhance their abilities in communicating through acting, impromptu, duet acting, extemporaneous speaking, and prose.

Students participated in drama workshops where they learned tips on make up and voice. They also competed in speech, debate, and drama tournaments in Lubbock, Alpine, Midland, Sonora, San Antonio, and Abilene. In the UIL competition the troupe performed "The Importance of Being Ernest" where Brent Jenkins received honorable mention for the all-star cast. Kim Tucker and Scott Tucker also placed second in the district debate competition.

Performances throughout the year included "Barefoot in the Park," "The Crucible," and the musical, "Little Mary Sunshine," co-produced by the chorale and orchestra departments.

The German Club and Mexican-American Club provided hours of interaction for students in club activities.

The German Club traveled to Fredericksburg to learn more about German lifestyles in Texas. The main fund-raising project to finance this trip was selling gummie bars.

Membership was open to any student who was enrolled in German or Spanish and had previously taken a German or Spanish class.

As a social club, the Mexican-American Club provided fellowship for its members at social meetings throughout the year, including a Christmas party and a trip to Six Flags during April. The group also sang carols to a senior citizen center during the Christmas holidays.

Festivals Attract Clubs

French and Latin students were able to extend their interests in these areas by participating after school in club activities.

The French Club's main activity of the year was hosting 47 schools at the French Symposium Feb. 25 at ASU. With 1400 participants, the day revolved around contests and a renaissance. Senior Liz Stoebner won a European trip for her test results. The group helped finance their projects by selling homemade cream puffs and European candy.

The Latin Club consisted of Latin I and II students. A banquet and the Foreign Language Arts Festival at ASU April 15 highlighted their activities. The Latin Club was also represented in the homecoming parade. Fund-raising projects included candy sales.

Art, NHS Display Talent

Creativity, talent, and hard work were evident in students involved in the Art Club and National Honor Society.

Art Club members displayed their creative abilities through such projects as signs for football players' yards and murals at Christmas time. At the May awards assembly David Wong, Lori Tjaden, Renee Webb, Anna Gonzalez, and Carrie Vines were recognized as outstanding art students.

NHS membership qualifications included character, service, and leadership. The grade requirements for seniors was a 3.75 average, while juniors were required a 4.25 average. Faculty members determined the membership for students. In April, the Lion's Club hosted an annual awards banquet for the members, plus the 1983-84 members.

Bands Earn Top Ratings

Under the direction of new band director, Jeff Doughten, the band earned superior ratings at the district band contest in November and at an invitational contest in St. Louis in April.

In order to help earn the $32,000 needed for the St. Louis trip, the band program sponsored a Halloween Spook House and a Mexican dinner.

The efforts of the St. Louis trip proved successful since Central was the only school for all three bands, including the concert, symphonic, and orchestra groups, to earn Division I ratings at the contest. While competing in St. Louis, the band members went to Six-Flags over Mid-America and attended a Cardinal baseball game.

'84 Hawaii Trip Revealed

In early August, band members began practicing for their half-time shows for the football season. When school began, they practiced sixth period and after school a couple hours each day.

Besides performing at half-time shows and pep rallies, students also participated in concerts. These concert band members performed Feb. 1, April 12, and May 12.

As the year began to wind down, plans were also being made for the 1983-84 season. Band director, Jeff Doughten, announced a trip to Hawaii, where the band will march in the King Kamehema Celebration in June.

To close the year's activities, all band students were honored at a banquet, May 20 at ASU.

Throughout the school year, the orchestra prepared for numerous concerts and contests.

Several musicians participated in the All-Region Orchestra in Odessa in mid-January. The following month, Kitty Knebel and Sheronna Kingston were chosen for All-State Orchestra. In April, the orchestra won a sweepstakes trophy at the regional competition in Odessa in concert and sight-reading.

To highlight the season, the group competed in St. Louis, along with 50 other orchestras. Success prevailed again when the orchestra received superior rating.

Tex-Anns Provide Glamour

High kicks, poise, smiles ... all characterized the Tex-Anns who helped to add a touch of glamour to the half-time activities at football and basketball games.

During sixth period the girls worked out, practicing their routines, as well as stretching to keep limber for their high-kick steps. The leaders of the drill team were responsible for choreographing the dance steps.

At the games the girls performed these routines. They could also be heard during the games and at pep rallies, acting as a pep squad, following the chants led by the cheerleaders.

All members of the Tex-Anns were selected after a tryout clinic in the spring.

Chorale members, who had to audition individually for the choir, were busy throughout the year with solo and ensemble competition and the musical 'Little Mary Sunshine'.

Butch Morris and Debbie Hunter were selected for regionals and qualified for the pre-area auditions for the state competition. Others who were selected included Allison Burke, Charlotte Beal, Phillip Cross, and James Smith.

The fall musical production of 'Little Mary Sunshine' was a product of three departments: choir, orchestra, and drama. Shelley Roberts played the lead role of Little Mary, while Brent Jenkins was cast for the lead male role.

Many Groups Make Music

Students interested in the field of music and singing were involved in the various choirs in the Choir Department.

Under the leadership of Mr. C. T. Aly and Mr. Jim Wynne, the department offered different mixtures of choirs for different interests.

Choirs in the department included the Mixed Choir, Ensemble, Central Singers, Ladies Acapella, and Chorale. These groups participated in concerts throughout the year to entertain students, parents, and the community.

FCA Sponsors Jog-a-thon

Besides competing in athletic contests, many students in the athletic department were part of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Coaches guided the FCA members in a program designed to confront athletes as part of the youth community to follow Christ and serve Him through the fellowship of the church and through their vocations. Both the girls' and boys' programs sponsored FCA chapters.

In the fall the girls' FCA involved many other students in a fund-raising project which saw teachers and students running for money. The FCA Jog-a-thon gave many groups the chance to earn extra money for their clubs, get into shape, and enjoy the fellowship of many students from different organizations.

Students Research Bible

Students were able to unite in Christian fellowship through the efforts of the Bible and All Because of Christ Clubs.

ABC was open to students and teachers of all denominations who wanted to study the Bible with fellow Christians. Students listened to guest speakers and singers at their 7:30 a.m. Wednesday morning meetings. The group was sponsored by Mrs. Eva Henley and Mrs. Gloria Burleson.

The Bible Club was a part of the Bible class which included a survey study of the Old and New Testaments. The club, sponsored by Tim Chandler, taught the students to read and understand the Bible and to apply the teachings of the Bible.

HECE, FHA Offer Training

Valuable experience was provided for students enrolled in Home Economics Co-operative Education and homemaking classes.

HECE students learned skills in the classroom for their on-the-job training experience. Students were employed in child care, clothing management, home furnishing, food management, and institutional and home management.

In homemaking classes students were provided a general knowledge of careers available in the field of home economics. Instruction was taught in the areas of food and nutrition, the clothing industry, home management, consumer education and home and family living. FHA was open to students enrolled in homemaking, providing an organized social environment for these members.

OEA Teaches Office Skills

Office Education Association chapters provided opportunities for career choices and development in leadership for office education students.

During their classes, students learned office skills, including how to operate office machines, such as an IBM display writer. They also learned filing, record keeping, and accounting skills. This program found students jobs to practice the skills that they had learned in class.

Two OEA members advanced to the National OEA Leadership Conference in Chicago, April 21-25, by placing at the state meet in San Antonio. Sheila Pettiet won second in information communications at the state meet, while Dale Heck placed third in Accounting II.

DECA Practices Job Skills

Students participating in the DECA classes were able to apply skills learned in school to actual jobs.

Members of the Distributive Education Clubs of America attended school half-a-day and worked the remainder of the day.

Occupations relating to retail and wholesale marketing and selling services were the emphasis of the course, with classroom work supplementing the job experience.

Students Apply Training

Industrial Cooperative Training students worked half days in jobs relating to industry and commercial enterprise. This allowed students the opportunity to transfer training they had received in the classroom to their jobs.

Health Occupation Students of America aided students who planned to enter a career in the field of health-related occupations. HOSA members attended area leadership contests in Lubbock, Abilene, and San Antonio. The group stressed their motto: "Let the hands of HOSA mold the health of tomorrow."

Ag Clubs Stress Livestock

Preparing students for the future in the agriculture industry was the primary goal of the agricultural clubs.

Although the livestock area was emphasized in the program, students also worked on leadership projects, farm machinery and welding units, and record keeping techniques.

Since all students participated as officers throughout the year, a unit in public speaking was included in the program.

Individual students also elected to compete in stock shows and district competition in judging dairy cattle, wool, livestock, and meats.

Clubs Tackle Auto Repairs

Auto Mechanics and Auto Body Clubs provided students with vocational training skills in the auto repair industry.

With the interior of the automobile as its main concern, the Auto Mechanics classes learned the principles of engine repair. The students concentrated on cars and trucks but also studies other combustible engines.

Concentrating on the bodies of vehicles, the Auto Body students learned modern techniques on repairing damaged bodies and frames. They also learned how to estimate repair costs.

Students cars, as well as individuals from the community, took advantage of using both programs for auto repairs at minimal costs.

Building Trades
Appliance Repair
Metal Trades

Students Saw, Nail, Weld

Appliance repair, metal trades, building trades, and mill and cabinet all had something in common — the construction industry.

Appliance repair students studied basic electricity, refrigeration, and mechanics. Students were taught how to repair or replace defective parts for customers' use and identify the cause of everyday appliance problems.

In metal trades the art of welding was stressed. Students were taught to work with many types of metals used for welding.

Building trades students worked on constructing a house in the Southland addition. In the spring, the house sold for $108,000.

Mill and cabinet students learned how to repair and construct wood items, such as an old-fashioned ice box. They also assisted with the cabinetry on the building trades' house.

Senioritus Begins With Class Ring

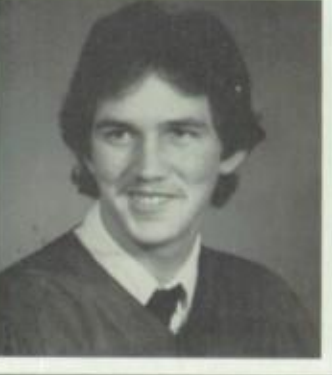

Preparations for the senior year actually began when students ordered their senior rings during their junior year. However, the reality of the senior status was felt during the summer as the seniors dressed in cap and gown to be photographed for their senior portraits.

As the year progressed, ordering invitations and being fitted for caps and gowns began to plague seniors with "senioritus" as they realized that graduation drew closer. Such requirements as English IV and government were able to keep this group in touch with reality.

A half-day work schedule and taking special electives to prepare for a college major helped seniors to realize that they were preparing for their futures. College exams and scholarship and job applications were also reminders that this group faced graduation and adulthood.

Grad Faces Obstacle

A tragedy on Oct. 22 created an obstacle in the life of senior Bobbie Garza.

On this Friday evening, a drunken driver traveling 90 mph, hit the Toyota of her best friend, Lisa Brazil, a 1982 graduate, rolling the girls' car 250 feet.

Three weeks later, Ms. Garza's friend died. In the three months to follow her three weeks of hospitalization, Ms. Garza lived each day in physical and emotional pain, completing her senior year through the homebound program.

The previous year Ms. Garza had graduated from a non-accredited school. She elected to attend another year of school at Central so she could graduate through an accredited program. (See portrait on page 98.)

Senior Class Leads Future Graduates

A class of 636 seniors led the way for the sophomore and junior classes.

Individual students also arose as leaders through such organizations as the Student Council and the Senior Class itself.

Elected as president during the spring election, Karlisa Smith led the Student Council. Other officers who made decisions involving the student government were Ted Dawson, vice-president; Susan Looka, secretary; Jane Allen, treasurer; and Melissa Hodges, parliamentarian. These leaders planned and organized events such as Twirp Week and the Favorites Banquet.

Representing the Senior Class were Augie Alcala, president; Jack Carsner, vice-president; Lari Grider, secretary, and April Campbell, reporter. These officers planned the Senior Banquet and Senior Day.

Gag Me With A Spoon

Totally awesome . . .

Gag me with a spoon . . .

These expressions were a part of the Valley Talk which swept the nation by fall. Originating in the San Fernando Valley of California, a small group of girls created a fad which influenced some students' ways of dress, speech, and thought.

Mini skirts and leotards characterized this style. Although a few students adapted the val look, the greatest influence of the val generation to affect the San Angelo area was mainly through reading about this group and by watching such movies as "Fast Times At Ridgemont High."

Rates Affect Seniors

During the school year, many seniors became aware of financial responsibilities. The economy of the entire nation also increased the awareness and attitude of many students. "Reaganomics" offered a foreshadowing of prosperity to many Americans.

Although castigated, President Reagan's plan did accomplish certain goals. Seniors, by early January, could buy cars at an average 11.9 percent interest rate, the lowest rate in several years. Gasoline prices fell below $1 per gallon in February. Home and personal loans dropped from a high 18 percent to 12 percent by February. The lower rates made it easier for students to afford their dreams.

Inflation, however, did raise simple pleasures. Minimum wage was $3.35 per hour in 1983, but the average price of a movie was $3.50 while concerts average $10 a seat. A large pizza could be purchased for $9. Prices may have seemed high, but hopes of a better economy were evident in early 1983.

Guests Discuss Careers In March

As seniors listened to guest speakers at the annual March Career Day, they realized they were one step closer to entering the job market.

Although some seniors had mailed applications to colleges to prepare for their careers, others already had job interviews lined up to enter the job market immediately following graduation.

During Career Day, students were able to hear previews of three career opportunities from 87 guest speakers, representing 77 different fields. The speakers represented professional, educational, military, and marketing area.

Stereos, Concerts Provide Enjoyment

Food, water, clothing, and shelter are necessities in life. For the average student, within that shelter . . . there must be music. This year's music ranged from "easy rock" to Country and Western to the wild antics of "punk rock." Students "cranked up their tunes" on their car stereos as they cruised the drag or at home on their jam box or stereo. Concerts provided hours of entertainment, either at local concerts, such as Cheap Trick, or in Midland, Odessa, or Abilene.

A new fad that revolutionized the music industry this summer was the popular M-TV. At home, students could watch their favorite groups, including the top group chosen by a senior poll, Loverboy.

Economy Forces Students To Work

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy . . ." but, during the economy of 1982-83, Jack HAD to work.

Throughout the year, many students worked after school or through a vocational program to pay for the extras of life. Car payments, car maintenance, clothes, entertainment, and dates were only a few necessities that required extra cash.

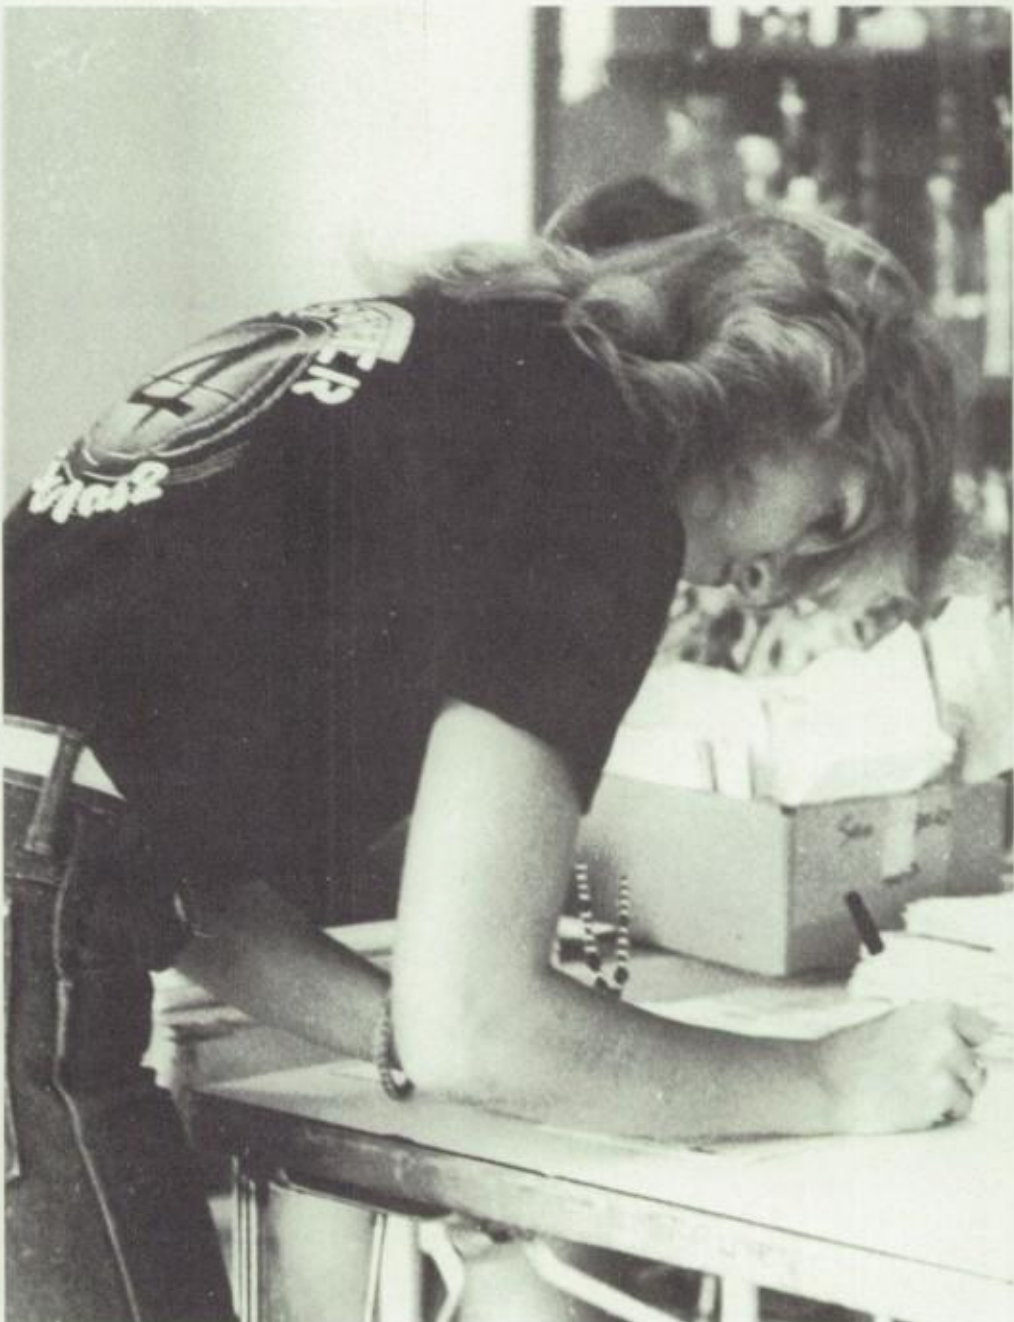

To meet these expenses, seniors worked for minimum wage, earning $3.35 per hour. However, President Ronald Reagan's proposal to balance the budget called for a reduction of the minimum wage to $2.50. This proposal met strong opposition from the nation's young people.

Although many seniors worked toward paying for immediate expenses, some planned for the future by saving for their college education.

Officers Promote Sales

Spring 1982 represented officer election for the future Junior Class.

Chosen by their classmates as leaders were Lisa Green, president; Paige Parry, vice-president; Christy Bartlett, treasurer; Sheila Smith, reporter, and Susan Self, secretary.

Holding down expenses for the prom and raising money for the class, the officers initiated fund raisers throughout the year. Selling tickets for donated prizes by local businesses and promoting candy sales offered these young leaders practical experience for future leadership positions. These leaders were sponsored by Mrs. Billie McCarroll and Mrs. Jan Watkins.

Lisa Edwards represents the Junior Class as she leads cheers at the pep rallies and football and basketball games.

Students Choose Corvette

Throughout time, cars may represent status symbols and are a major concern to high school students. When the student passes his driver's test, "car mania" hits.

In the senior survey, three cars were voted as the dream cars of this generation. These cars were a Corvette, a Mercedes, and a Datsun 280

ZX. With these cars ranging from $20,000 — $45,000, these vehicles were only a part of the imagination in most cases.

Closer to reality, a Honda, a Mazda, or any other small car often proved more efficient and economical . . . in order to survive the monthly payment.

Night Turns Into Glitter

As May approached, anxious juniors and seniors prepared for one of the biggest social events of the year ... the prom.

Tuxedos were rented, prom dresses were purchased, cars were waxed, and nominations for queen and king were made to help turn the night into "Masque Enchantment", a night of glitter and glamour.

Juniors experienced their first prom as a group. Five junior duchesses were elected to enter the "prom court" from a field of 10 nominees.

Academics Provide Basics

Academic study is a vital aspect for the junior school year. Throughout the year, several tests are taken by college-bound students to evaluate their knowledge.

College preparations can be made by juniors as early as the first semester. These students have the option to take the PSAT/MNSQT tests which offer an example of college board exams and provide scholarship opportunities to high scoring juniors.

Classes and honors can be made by juniors during the year. Although English III is the only required class for most juniors, other classes can be taken to ease graduation requirements. National Honor Society is also taken into consideration during this third high school year. Working half-days is a new option to this classification.

Voters Determine Leaders

"A government for the people and by the people..." is a statement that the founding fathers of this nation based the organization of this country. Students took advantage of this freedom throughout the year by voting in several elections.

The Student Council was the major governmental election during the year. In mid April, officers and senators were elected by the student body. Candidates declared their qualifications through speeches in class assemblies.

Other elections during the year included officers for clubs and the homecoming queen court in the fall, favorites in February, and cheerleaders in April. All the elections provide this basic constitutional freedom.

Sophomores Elect Leaders

Marking their first year in high school, sophomores gained valuable experience in leadership positions to carry them through their remaining years of high school.

One of these experiences allowed a group to represent the Sophomore Class as officers. Elected in the fall by their class, these students accepted the responsibility of decorating for the Junior-Senior Prom.

When the three junior high groups combined, Larry Guerro was elected as president of this group. Other officers were Susan Pack, vice-president; Laura Fry, secretary; Jessica Guevara, treasurer, and Beth Sutherland, reporter.

Sophomore Makes Varsity

As sophomores entered their first year on a high school campus, many found ways to early accomplishments in their high school career.

One sophomore to achieve "varsity" status was Richard McKnight, who made his way to the Bobcat football team. Besides his youth, McKnight had one more obstacle to face — his handicap.

McKnight's handicap consisted of a partial foot. A lawn mower accident at age three created an obstacle in this sophomore's life. However, he proved to overcome this obstacle by becoming the kicker for the varsity team.

'E.T.', 'Tootsie' Rate High

In 1983 movies greatly affected all students, socially and economically.

Movie enthusiasts could be found in couples or with groups of friends, viewing such favorites as 'E.T.' and 'Tootsie', two favorites voted by the Senior Class survey which were also nominees for the annual Academy Awards. For this entertainment, students paid $3.50 a movie or $2 for matinees or special nights sponsored by local theaters.

E.T. won the hearts of many when this unusual being was left behind on earth after a visit from outer space. After becoming friends with a small boy, Elliot, the two worked together so that E.T. could "phone home." In the emotional ending, E.T. did . . . go home.

'Tootsie' was a comedy that characterized the acting industry. Dustin Hoffman portrayed a woman in the media. Funny segments caused by his feminine role flourished throughout the movie.

Detention Policy Begins

Along with a new principal, some new programs were initiated. However, one program affected sophomores only — sophomore detention.

At the beginning of the second semester, Mr. Skip Casey called a sophomore assembly. He stated that at least 50 per cent of the sophomores had at least one D or F on their report cards for the first semester. The main reason for the low grades was a failure to turn in homework.

Mr. Casey wanted to raise the grades, so he assigned sophomore detention to any sophomore who failed to do his homework. While fulfilling the detention requirement, a sophomore who failed to complete his homework was assigned an hour of detention to finish the homework.

Many Acres Create Maze

"Where am I?" "Where is Newton Hall?" These are some of the typical questions of sophomores during the first day of school. Central's acres of campus became a maze to many lost sophomores.

Changing from a one or two building structure of junior high to a multi-complex campus and thirty acres of land often dumbfounded incoming sophomores. Also, six minutes to reach each specified building was a major concern even before the first day of school.

In many cases, pranking juniors and seniors misled sophomores to different parts of the campus by giving faulty directions. After all, they had been in the same situation!

Making The Grade

School Boards Establish Guidelines

Twenty-five years of Central's existence were culminated by graduation May 28.

Throughout these 25 years of San Angelo Central High School, decisions were made and policies were set by members of the school board that affected the student population, faculty members, administrators, and the community.

Serving on the first school board when Central first opened its doors were Mr. Frank M. Pool, Mr. Marion Balch, Mr. J. Homer Jordan, Jr., Mr. Curt Steib, Mrs. Joy Moon, Dr. W. B. Rountree, and Mr. Earl W. Smith.

Society and the community has changed from those days that have passed. However, two-and-a-half decades later, the school board has continued its dedication to the community and to scholars by providing quality public education through the creative and continued programs of the SAISD.

The 1983 'Westerner' staff salutes the dedication and efforts of the 1982-83 school board which has carried on the challenge of creating quality education since the beginning of the Central High School campus in 1958.

The main parking area is seen in the upper center.

Speech By Education Commissioner Highlights Program; Tour Scheduled

An address by Dr. Lawrence G. Derthick, U. S. commissioner of education, will highlight dedication exercises of San Angelo's new $3 million Central High School plant today. Dr. Derthick's address will highlight a program which will get under way with an open house at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day.

Dr. L. D. Haskew, vice-president of the University of Texas, will introduce Dr. Derthick following a welcoming address by Mr. Frank M. Pool, president of the San Angelo Board of Education. Invocation will be by President E. N. Jones of Texas Technological College.

EXHIBITION SLATED

Following Dr. Derthick's address, Mr. Pool will formally dedicate the new plant.

From 10:30 to 11 a.m. a program of organ and violin selections will be given by Mr. John McMillan and Mr. Thomas Greer.

Exhibitions of various high school activities in and around the activities area of the campus are slated for this afternoon. The schedule includes:

From 2 to 2:30 p.m., tumbling and acrobatics in Babe Didrikson Gym; 2:30 to 3 p.m., basketball; 3 to 3:30, swimming and diving; 3:30 to 4, intermission; 4 to 4:30, tennis; and 4:30 to 5, a scrimmage by members of the Bobcat football squad.

Members of the Tex-Anns, SACHS's precision drill team, will serve as hostesses and guides.

SERVED IN GERMANY

Dr. Derthick became commissioner of education on December 20, 1956, after a career as an educator which spanned 30 years. From 1942 to 1956 he served as superintendent of schools in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Dr. Derthick paid his way through college by driving a produce truck. He received the BA degree in 1927 and the MA three years later.

During 1948 and 1949, Dr. Derthick served in Germany on the Education Branch, Office of Military Government.

Dr. Derthick is a member of the school service committee of the Boy Scouts of America, the advisory committee on school relations of the Girl Scouts, and the President's Committee on employment of the physically handicapped.

Dr. and Mrs. Derthick are parents of three children, two of whom are teachers.

13 Served On 'Building' Board

A total of 13 San Angeloans served as members of the Board of Education during the years spanning the inception and completion of San Angelo Central High School.

Working with them were Supt. G. B. Wadzeck and various members of his administrative staff.

First step was a survey analyzing immediate secondary school needs and projecting them to the foreseeable future. Untold hours were spent in such matters as financing, conferring with architects and contractors, securing building site, and purchasing necessary equipment.

Present members of the school board include Mr. Frank M. Pool, president; Mr. Marion Balch, vice-president; Mr. J. Homer Jordan, Jr., secretary; Mr. Curt F. Steib, treasurer; Dr. Wiley B. Rountree, Mr. Earl W. Smith, and Mrs. Joy B. Moon.

Others who served on the board and also contributed liberally of their time and energy in making San Angelo Central High School a reality included Mr. Alvin Hay, Dr. K. B. Round, Mr. C. L. Harless, Jr., Mr. Robert G. Carr, Mr. Clifton B. Brooks, and Mr. John E. Martin.

THREE SUPERINTENDENTS IN SAN ANGELO SINCE 1905

San Angelo has had only three school superintendents since 1905, when Mr. Felix E. Smith assumed the post. Mr. Smith served until 1940, when he was succeeded by Mr. Bryan Dickson. Mr. G. B. Wadzeck, present superintendent, succeeded Mr. Dickson in 1952.

Staggered Lunch Period Scheduled

This year some SACHS students will eat lunch on a staggered basis.

Mr. Minton L. White, principal, explained that the fourth period math and commercial classes and study halls will be the only classes with this split period.

"Only about one-tenth of the student body will eat lunch during this period," stated Mr. White.

Students with this split period will have their class from 11:35 to 12:05 and lunch from 12:05 to 12:35. At 12:35 they will return to class for the remainder of the period. Another group will eat from 11:35 until 12:05 and have their fourth period from 12:05 until 1:05. The last group will have class from 11:35 to 12:35 and have lunch from 12:35 to 1:05, confirmed the principal.

The San Angelo School Board has been considering the split lunch plan for the last three years. About a year and a half ago at mid-term, the school board endeavored to put this plan into effect, but because of conflicts, the board decided to wait until a later date to try the proposal.

"The split-level lunch period is used in most of the larger secondary schools," stated Dr. W. B. Rountree, San Angelo School Board member.

Activity Period Added To Schedule

An activity period from 3:30 to 4:30 has been added to the SACHS schedule this fall.

Organizations such as clubs, cheerleaders, and publications staffs will meet during the seventh period. It will also be available for use by students desiring to practice for Interscholastic League events.

Another advantage of the activity period is that it will afford students carrying heavy class loads opportunity to participate in extra-curricular activities, Mr. White said.

'WELL-ROUNDED PROGRAM' AIM OF PRINCIPAL WHITE

"Study is the major sport, but well organized activities have their place in an all-around school program," states Mr. Minton L. White, San Angelo Central High School's first principal.

This statement by the popular principal, who served as chief administrative officer of San Angelo High School from 1953 until he was transferred to the new SACHS plant, confirms his announced goal on assuming the principalship five years ago, when he said:

"One of my aims is to develop a well-rounded activity program that will have something to offer every student in high school."

MAXIMUM DEVELOPMENT

Mr. White believes that the purpose of education is to provide for every youth the opportunity to develop to his maximum capacity physically, mentally, socially, economically, morally, and spiritually to the end that he may be a well-adjusted member of democratic society.

In addition, he pointed out, the SACHS curriculum should include well-planned courses of study offering training in specialized vocations and in homemaking, as well as preparation for college. Ultimately, he hopes that each SACHS student will learn to think for himself, and to develop whatever abilities he possesses.

Mr. White believes that these aims can be reached with the present staff of well-trained, efficient instructors, and with the new school plant which is adequate both in size and equipment for carrying out the school program. However, he noted, in order to reach these educational goals, patience, co-operation, and desire on the part of the students, faculty, and community will be necessary.

STEER CAPTAIN

Mr. White holds both the BS and MEd degrees from the University of Texas, where he captained the Longhorn baseball team. He came to San Angelo from Alice, where he served as high school principal for eight years. Prior to assuming the Alice post, he served as coach and principal at Sinton, and was connected with the Intramural Department of the University of Texas.

Mr. White is a member of the Methodist Church and is active in the local Kiwanis Club.

Board Publishes 16-Page Brochure

A 16-page brochure describing in detail San Angelo Central High School has been published by the school board.

Copies will be given to parents of students attending SACHS, and in addition San Angelo businessmen and the Board of City Development are buying about half of the 10,000 copies printed for other distribution.

The brochure contains pictures of every building on the SACHS campus and a detailed story of the development and construction of SACHS.

An aerial photograph of the plant serves as the cover.

Skip Casey Introduces Policy Changes

The twenty-fifth year of Central was marked as a year of change. This change began with the introduction of a new principal, Skip Casey. Mr. Casey initiated several new programs to the students and faculty. College-style registration and academic detention were two of the biggest arrivals with Mr. Casey.

Through motivational talks, Mr. Casey was able to arouse school spirit and morale all across campus. Whether it was the area football championship or vocational contest winners, Mr. Casey's voice came across the public address system many times to praise the students who represented Central. This was only one way he expressed pride in his new student body. However, when time arose to point out the negative behavior of the students, Mr. Casey did not hesitate to improve the actions and attitudes of the students. Discipline appeared to be a first priority of the new administrator.

Leaving Grapevine High School where he served as principal meant another step forward in the educational process of SAISD. Grapevine's loss was certainly Central's gain.

Four Assistant principals helped Mr. Casey in the supervision of the campus.

In his nineteenth year at Central, Mr. Ron Bates' responsibility was serving as registrar. Preparing grade sheets kept Mr. Bates pre-occupied, especially at the end of each six weeks' grading period.

Being responsible for all student activity funds was one of Mr. Dawson Coleman's main duties. His office also proved to be one of the busiest areas since the Student Service Center sold goodies and school supplies. Juniors' discipline problems were referred to Mr. Coleman. He has been at Central for ten years.

Sophomore students reported to Mr. Peter Fletcher for disciplinary actions. This was Mr. Fletcher's seventh year on this campus.

New to Central was Mr. Steve Glasscock. He assumed full responsibilities for the seniors. Mr. Glasscock moved from Grapevine High School where he served as an assistant principal.

Schedules Create Changes

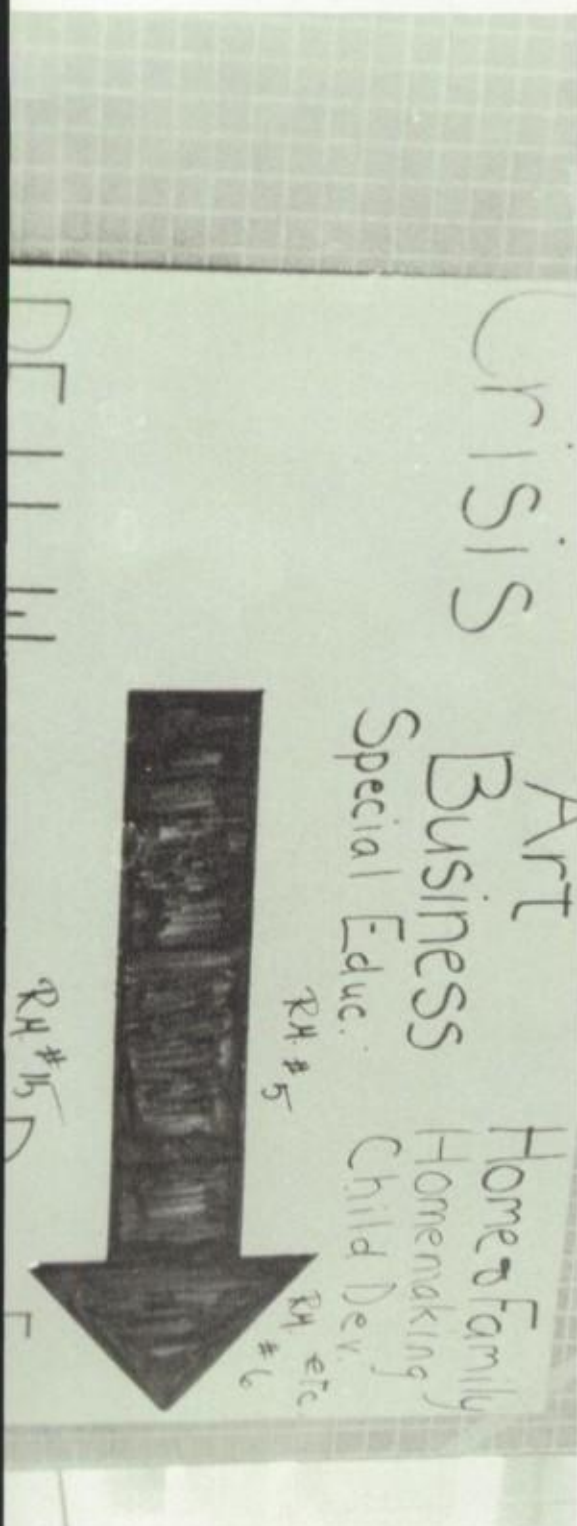

"Schedule changes" may have been two dreaded words by a certain group during the year — the counselors.

With the responsibility of scheduling classes for 2200 plus students, the counselors learned that some students changed their minds for various reasons. This meant creating new schedules, plus completing all paper work that accompanies schedule changes.

The Counseling Department also provided information on colleges and scholarships and sent out academic letters to A and B students each six weeks. In November, they sponsored College Night where over 50 colleges were represented to talk to students and parents.

Paper Work Plagues Staff

Writer's cramp plagued a certain group of personnel last year — the office staff, as well as the librarians. Helping to keep the offices and library running smoothly required notes, more notes, and additional notes.

Sending messages, plus filing and assisting in schedule changes, were a few of the many tasks that these secretaries accomplished daily. The secretaries handled loads of paper work, ranging from attendance reports to personnel files.

The Student Service Center provided a book store where all textbooks were handled. The center also sold goodies and school supplies. Another office frequented by many students was the nurse's office where students received minor first aid or checked out to go home due to illness.

English Stimulates Minds

English classes were assigned to stimulate the minds of students in the areas of literature and writing techniques.

The department's goals were grammar achievements, such as the basic skills of literature, and the current interest development in the English language. The instructors planned many projects to solve the problems affecting the individuals' language by changing the students' abilities to learn.

Themes, research papers, memorizing poems, and book reports required students to spend many late hours at nights completing these projects.

Students Add Up Credits

Stepping into a world of numbers and letters can be a confusing and complicated experience. However, by the time May finals arrived, math students were able to understand why "s" is equal to "y" and not "z."

Somehow, at the end of the year, understanding the most complicated math became simple. Although two years of math are required to fulfill requirements, many students elected to continue in their studies in the Math Department by taking extra courses, such as geometry, Algebra I and 2, trigonometry, and calculus.

Students who excelled in math were able to compete in the UIL competition.

Sciences Scope Unknown

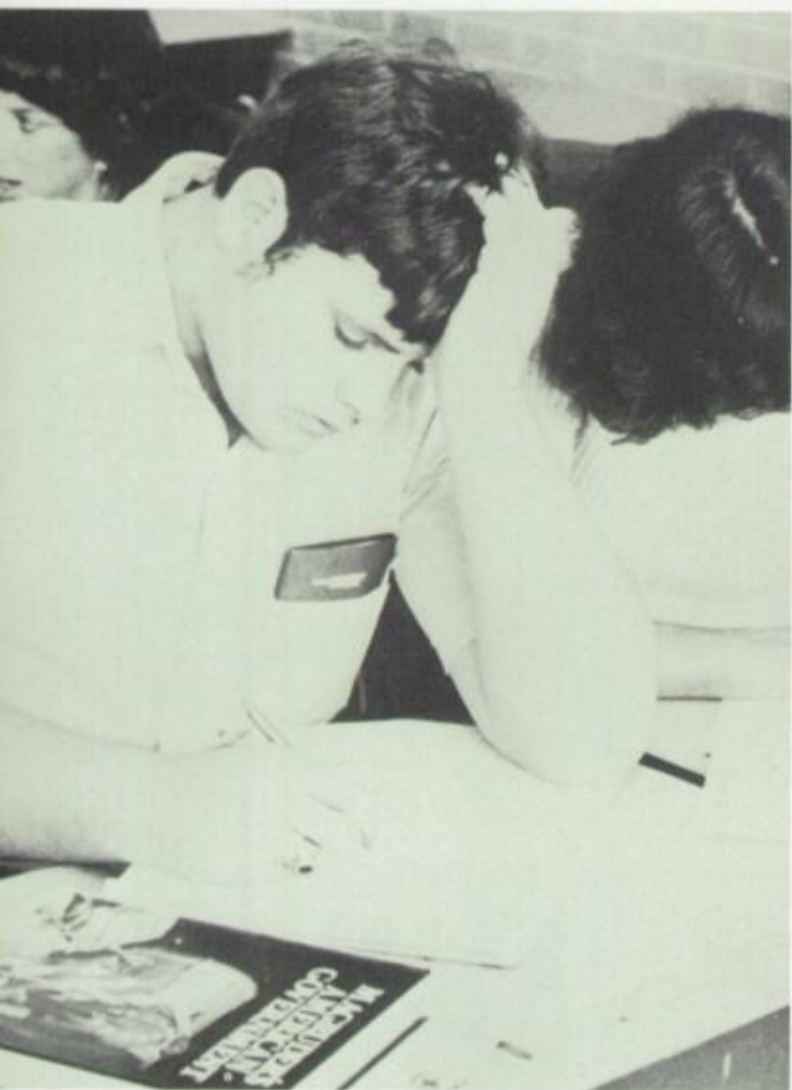

The Science Department taught a wide variety of classes, ranging from biology to chemistry to physics. Students elected to take the courses of their interests.

Biology classes included anatomy of various specimens, such as humans, plants, and animals. Chemistry offered the art of interpreting formulas, as well as mixing and experimenting with chemicals. Physics studied weights and measures.

All these prepared the students in the ever-changing world around them.

Seniors Discuss Legal Age

History classes helped students learn the progression of the United States as a world leader, as well as understand other people from around the world.

World history courses dealt with the development of man's culture, including religious and traditional values. Classes in American history stressed the causes of war and the changes occurring afterwards, socially and economically.

In government, students learned how the government system worked through social and political problems. Seniors also had the opportunity to see their state government at work when several bus loads of seniors traveled to Austin to hear the discussion of changing the legal age from 19 to 21.

Artists Perfect Talents

In the Fine Arts Department students were able to perfect their creative talents.

Writers were able to practice their skills by writing for the 'Campus Coral' or 'Westerner' staff. In magazine writing students produced the 'Kalidescope.' Photography added the graphic effects for the Journalism Department.

Musical talents were displayed through the chorale, band, and orchestra. These students also combined their talents with the drama department this year to produce the musical, "Little Mary Sunshine."

All fine arts students were able to use their talents and skills in the UIL literary competition.

Lifetime Skills Stressed

Physical fitness and team and individual sports provided a break for students enrolled in physical education classes.

Although some students may have experienced sore muscles from physical fitness tests or exercises, many looked forward to the challenge of competition in tournament play. Instruction in lifetime sports such as tennis, bowling, and badminton taught students skills they could use during their leisure time, throughout their lives.

In a required one-semester health class, teachers stressed the functions of the body, CPR, and nutritional study.

Vast amounts of training and experience were gained by students who participated in the vocational educational courses . . . for jobs during the school year and for their future.

In classes students learned skills in agriculture, appliance repair, auto body and mechanics, building trades, cabinet making, child development and computer programming. Classes in office education also prepared students for the world of business.

These skills were applied in part-time jobs. Short school days were enjoyed by the students who attended school half a day and then on the job the other half.

Students Study Three R's

Small classes were designed to meet the needs of students with learning disabilities in the Special Education Department.

With smaller classes, the teachers were able to plan special activities on an individual basis. As a condensed form of the regular school activities, these students learned the basic skills in the three R's: reading, writing and arithmetic.

Another service offered within the department prepared students for vocational skills . . . for the future and as a part of on-the-job-training as a part of the school day.

Aides Assist Personnel

Support staff personnel assisted teachers each day with instruction and preparation of teaching materials by working as aides in the various departments.

The traffic of 2300 plus feet shuffling throughout the buildings created hours of sweeping and mopping for the maintenance crews. Two shifts of cleaning crews, morning and night, cleaned the facilities and grounds each day.

Many students elected to avoid the rush to local fast food restaurants by eating on campus. The cafeteria personnel provided plate lunches for 85 cents or snack bar items, such as hot dogs for 60 cents.

Mojo, Cats Lead District

A new UIL rule change allowed the top two district teams to participate in the state playoffs.

In the 4-5A conference, Permian and Central proved to be the top two teams. Early polls favored the Bobcats as the number four team in the state, followed by Permian in the tenth spot. When the two teams met, Mojo overpowered the Cats 31-0, clinching the district championship.

As the season ended, three teams shared second place: Central, Midland High, and Odessa High. After a flip of a coin, the Cats emerged as runner-up in district 4-5A. This allowed the Cats the first opportunity for the playoffs in 16 years.

Rebuilding Efforts Produce Champs

When Coach Keeling took over the SAISD program, he revamped the junior high training program. At this time, the wheels were set in motion for building the 1982 area championship team since these players were eighth and ninth graders during this first year of revision.

Coach Keeling's courageous rebuilding efforts proved beneficial when the cats quickly jumped out to an undefeated 3-0 record in pre-season. The highlight of pre-season was a 21-7 victory over the number one state-rated Brownwood Lions.

During the season the Cats defeated district opponents Abilene Cooper, 21-14; Abilene High, 8-0; Midland High, 13-0, and Big Spring, 15-14. Due to the games being split, the Cats earned the right to flip for the second place berth in the play-offs.

Bobcats who were recognized for individual efforts for the all district team were Eric Hess, offensive tackle; Henry Klepac, defensive back, and Trey Wright, offensive Back. Receiving honorable mention were Jimmy Spiers, receiver; Joe Villarreal, defensive tackle; Steve Flores, defensive back; Mark Mc-Crea, defensive end, and Henry Green, offensive guard.

Bobcats Win Bi-District

In the opening round of the play-offs, the Cats clawed the Angry Red of Plainview 20-15. With tremendous support of the Bobcat fans, the angry Orange captured their first bi-district title in 16 years.

The ultimate play of the contest was a 35-yard touchdown option-pass play from Trey Wright to Scott Bingham. This touchdown marked the first time the Reds had been scored against in the first quarter of their entire season.

Fearless running by senior backs, Trey Wright and Henry Klepac, put the Cats up by two touchdowns. Plainview battled back late in the game to take the lead 14-15. The Cats were not to be denied the bi-district title. A 42-yard pass play from Greg Thomas to Bingham put the ball in position for a Klepac touchdown to secure the victory.

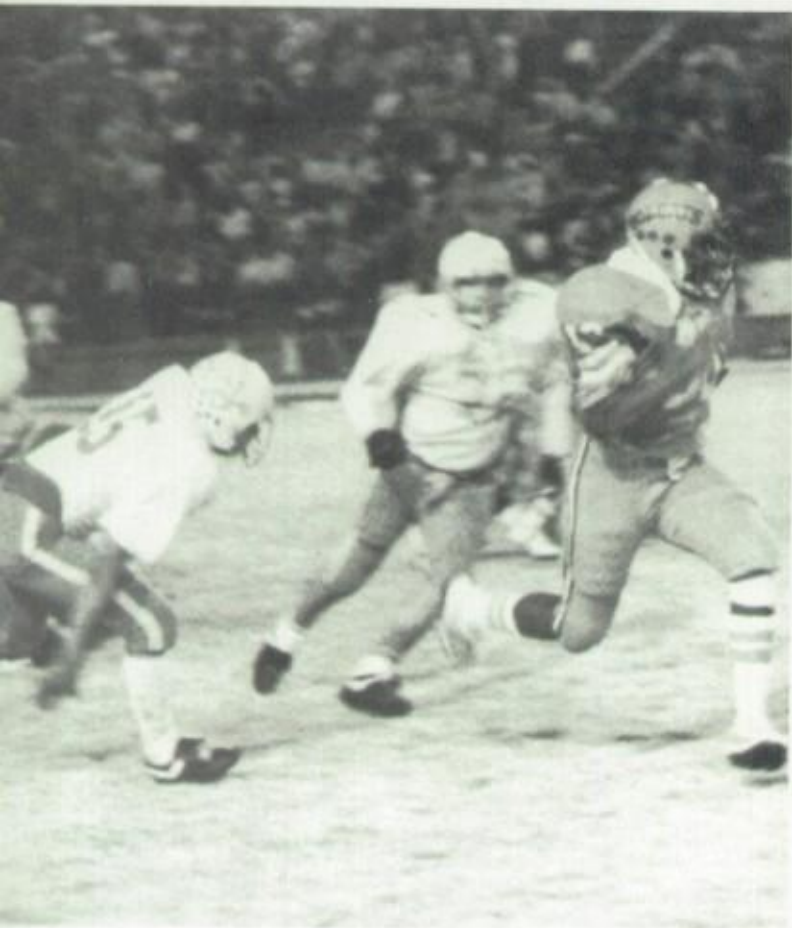

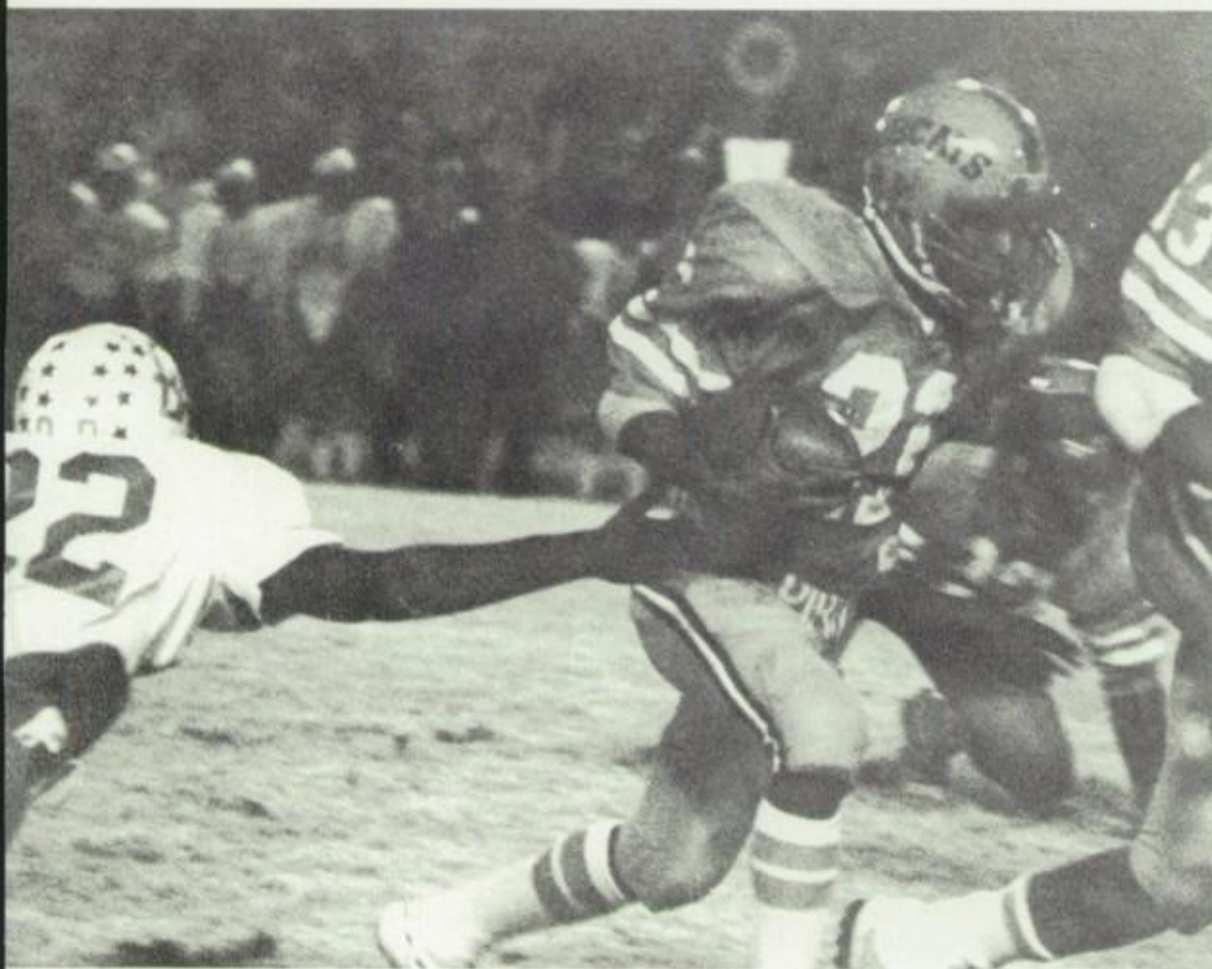

Cats Advance to Regional

When the Bobcats met the El Paso Highlanders, tremendous teamwork, both offensively and defensively, was the key factor in determining the area championship team. Overpowering the Highlanders 27-7, the Bobcats advanced to regional.

Although the scoreboard showed 7-7 at halftime, the Cats took charge of the game by surprising El Paso in the second half. A half-back option pass play and two touchdown runs of 54 and 59 yards decided the superior offense. An alert defense secured the victory by stopping their opponent's drive with three interceptions.

Raiders Stop Cat Attack

Facing Hurst L.D. Bell on home turf, the Cats found that "mother nature" was not sitting in the Angry Orange cheering section that night.

On a cold, rainy night, the Cats were unable to use their outside speed. This was the determining factor in the Cats hopes of advancing in the play-offs. The Raiders stopped the Cat attack 28-6, advancing to the state championship game when Bell met its fate as Beaumont Westbrook took the state title.

When football season concluded, the Bobcats had established themselves in a tough district, a team to be respected and not taken for granted.

Young Cats Gain Maturity

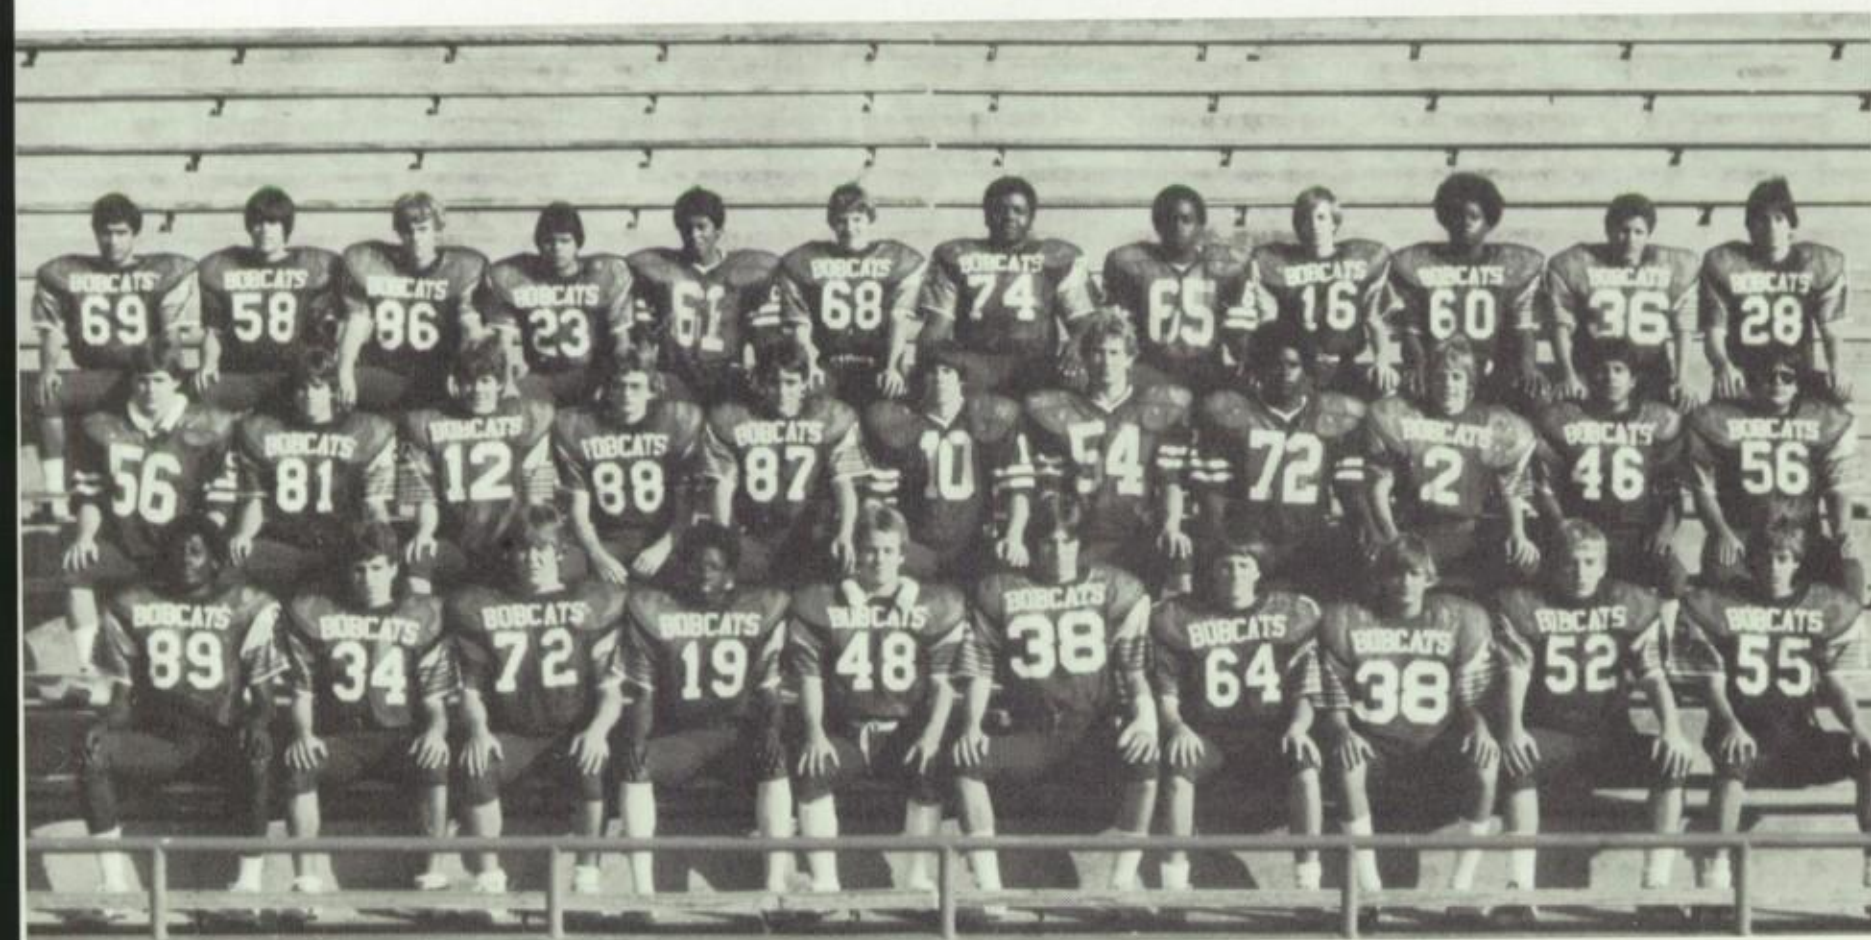

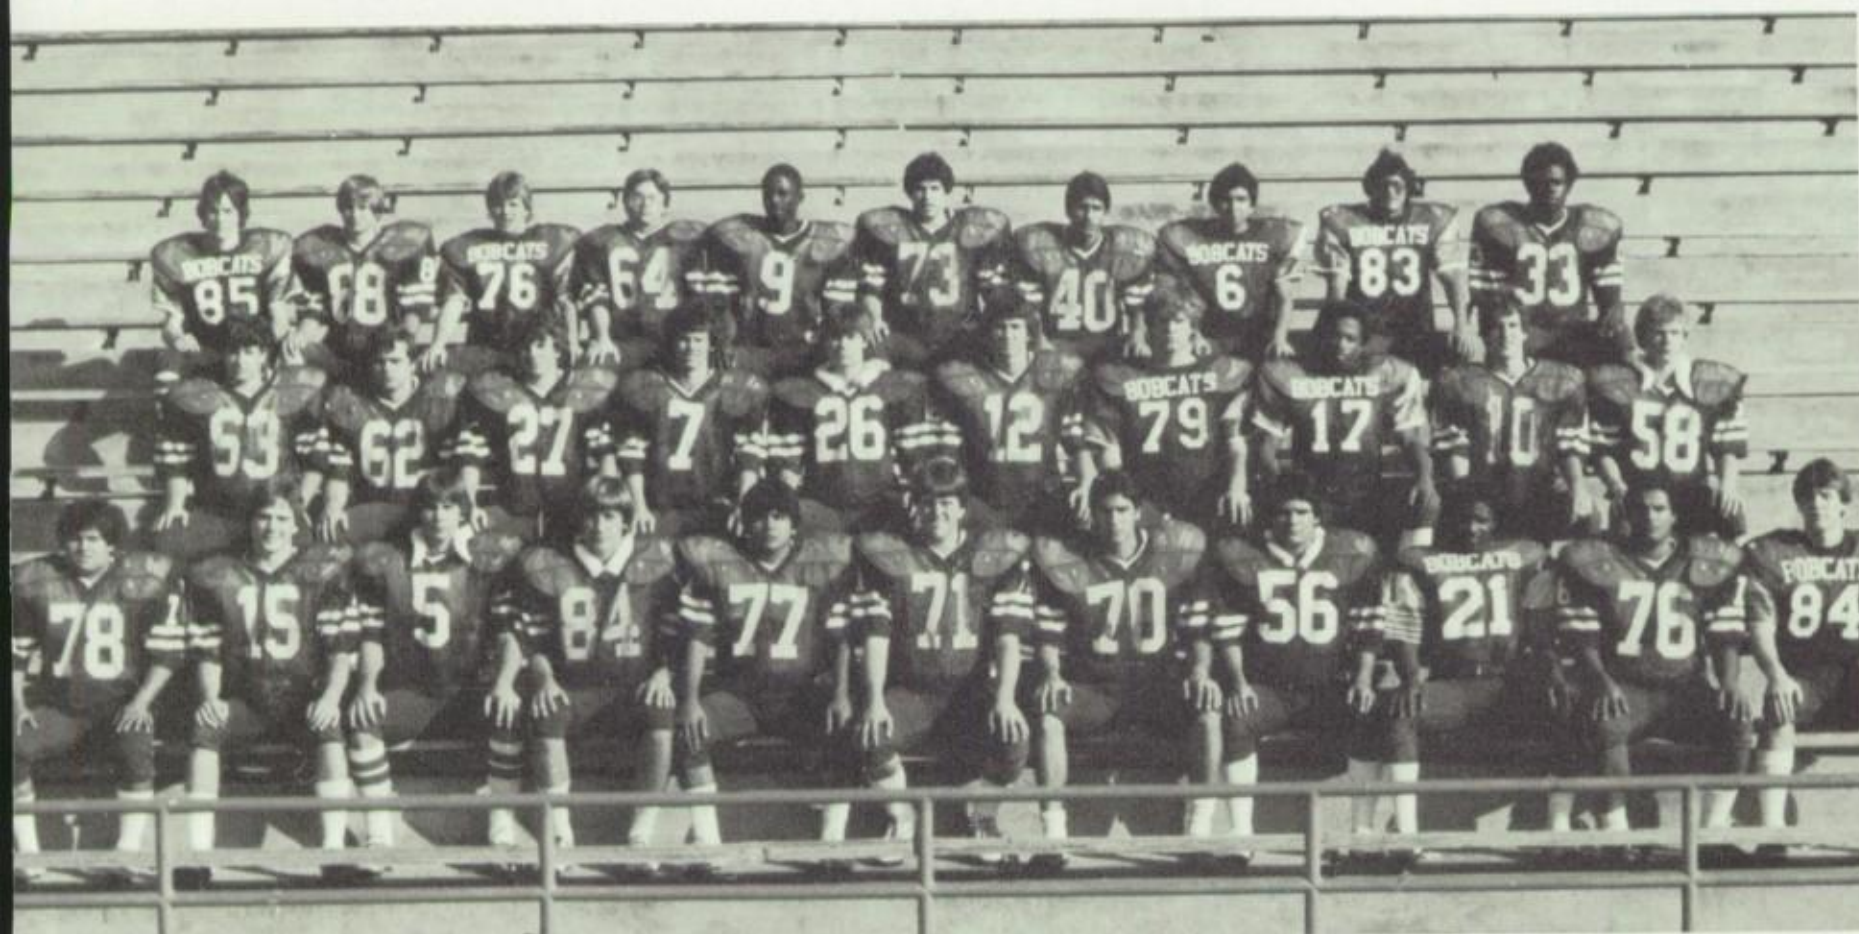

Although Friday is known for high school football in West Texas, Thursdays provided hours of action for fans as the JV and sophomore teams competed in district play.

In the course of the 1982-83 football season, the junior varsity Bobcats ended district play with a 5-5 record. The JV took a lead in district by jump ing out with a 3-0 record. However, competitive district teams split their record for the season.

After the season began for the sophomores, a couple players moved up to the varsity team. The sophomores concluded their season with a 6-4 record.

Bi-District Hopes Stopped

When the Lady Cats met their Amarillo Caprock opponent at bi-district, Coach Nita Vannoy's rebuilding efforts met its fate.

Coach Vannoy's hopes of another state crown ended when the girls fell 15-7 and 15-11. In the second game the Lady Cats were in the lead until the Amarillo team overpowered the Cats.

Three girls who were instrumental in leading their team to bi-district were senior Yvette Guerrero and juniors Monica Bradley and Val Schlaudt. These girls were honored by area coaches by being named to the all-district team. The two juniors will return for the 1983 season, along with three additional starters.

Lady Cats Capture Second

After losing five starters from the previous season, the varsity Bobcat volleyball team faced a rebuilding program when the girls kicked off their season in August.

Defying the sportscasters premature predictions, the Lady Cats fought their way in the 4-5A district to earn a berth in the play-offs. The girls were tied in district with Midland Lee who had an identical record. In the play-off game at Big Spring the Lady Cats were defeated 4-15, 15-11 and 11-15. This loss put the girls in runner-up spot in district. They ended their season with a 20-9 record.

JV Compiles 20-8 Record

The junior varsity volleyball team finished in the runner-up spot in district. The girls compiled a season record of 20-8 and 9-5 in district.

In district competition, the JV girls placed second at the Snyder tournament and third in the district tournament.

Top scorer for the season was Annie Stobaugh.

Wylie Produces Champions

In his first year at Central Coach Rob Wylie led the Cats to runners-up in district and a chance in the play-offs.

In the district seasonal race, the Bobcats were disappointed by a 73-66 overtime loss to Midland on the road and narrow home losses against Odessa High and Odessa Permian. The final blow was a road loss to Odessa High which decided the winner in the district competition.

Seniors Jeff Kasner and Lorand White were recognized for their contributions to the Cats efforts by winning all-district honors. White was the second leading scorer in district, averaging 20.1 points a game.

Cats Down Familiar Foe

In the first round of the play-offs, the cagers faced the same school that the varsity football team defeated in their first play-off competition — Plainview. Keeping with the tradition, the Bobcat basketball team rolled over their opponents 79-73 to take the bi-district honors.

The Bobcats met their match when they faced a tough El Paso Eastwood team. Staging a brilliant comeback, the Cats cut a 30-point lead to five. Time ran out for the Bobcats' season as they were defeated 67-72.

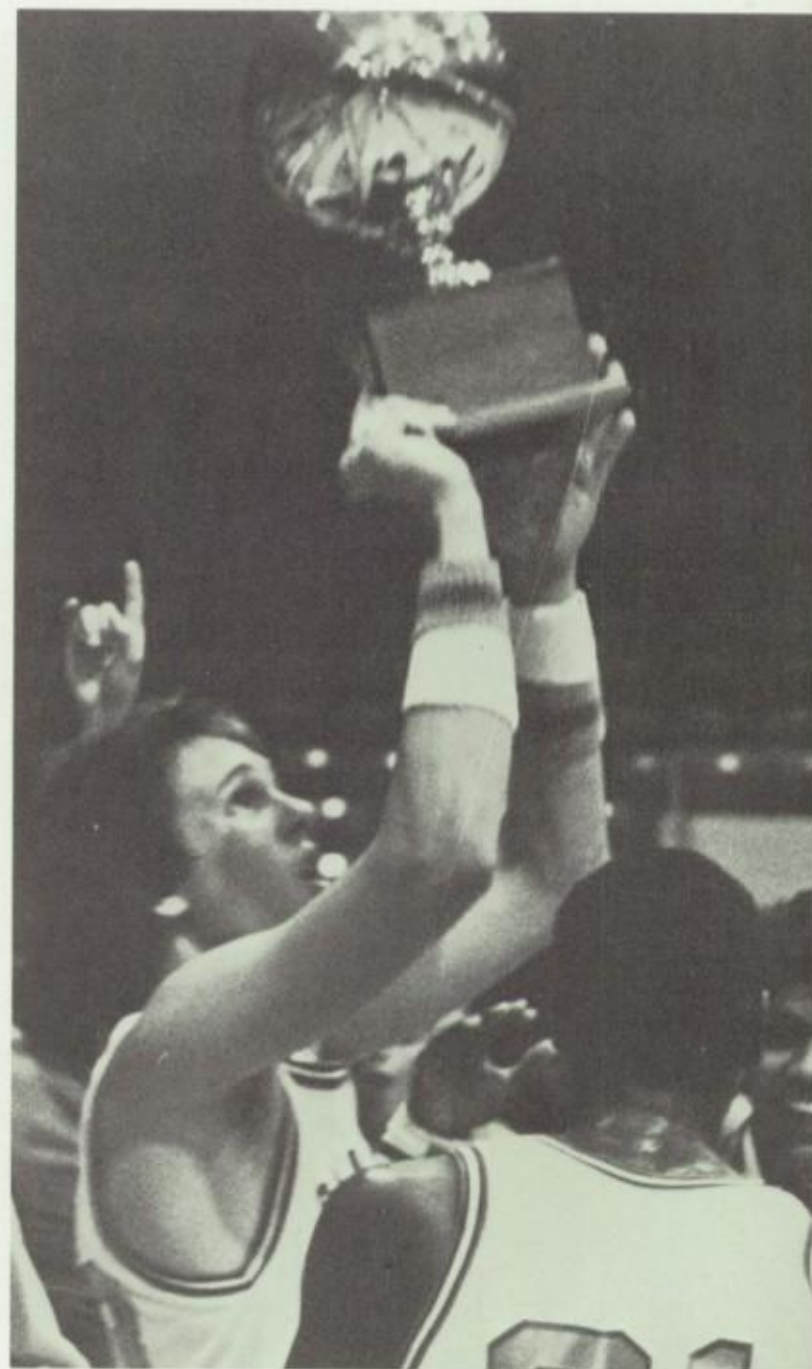

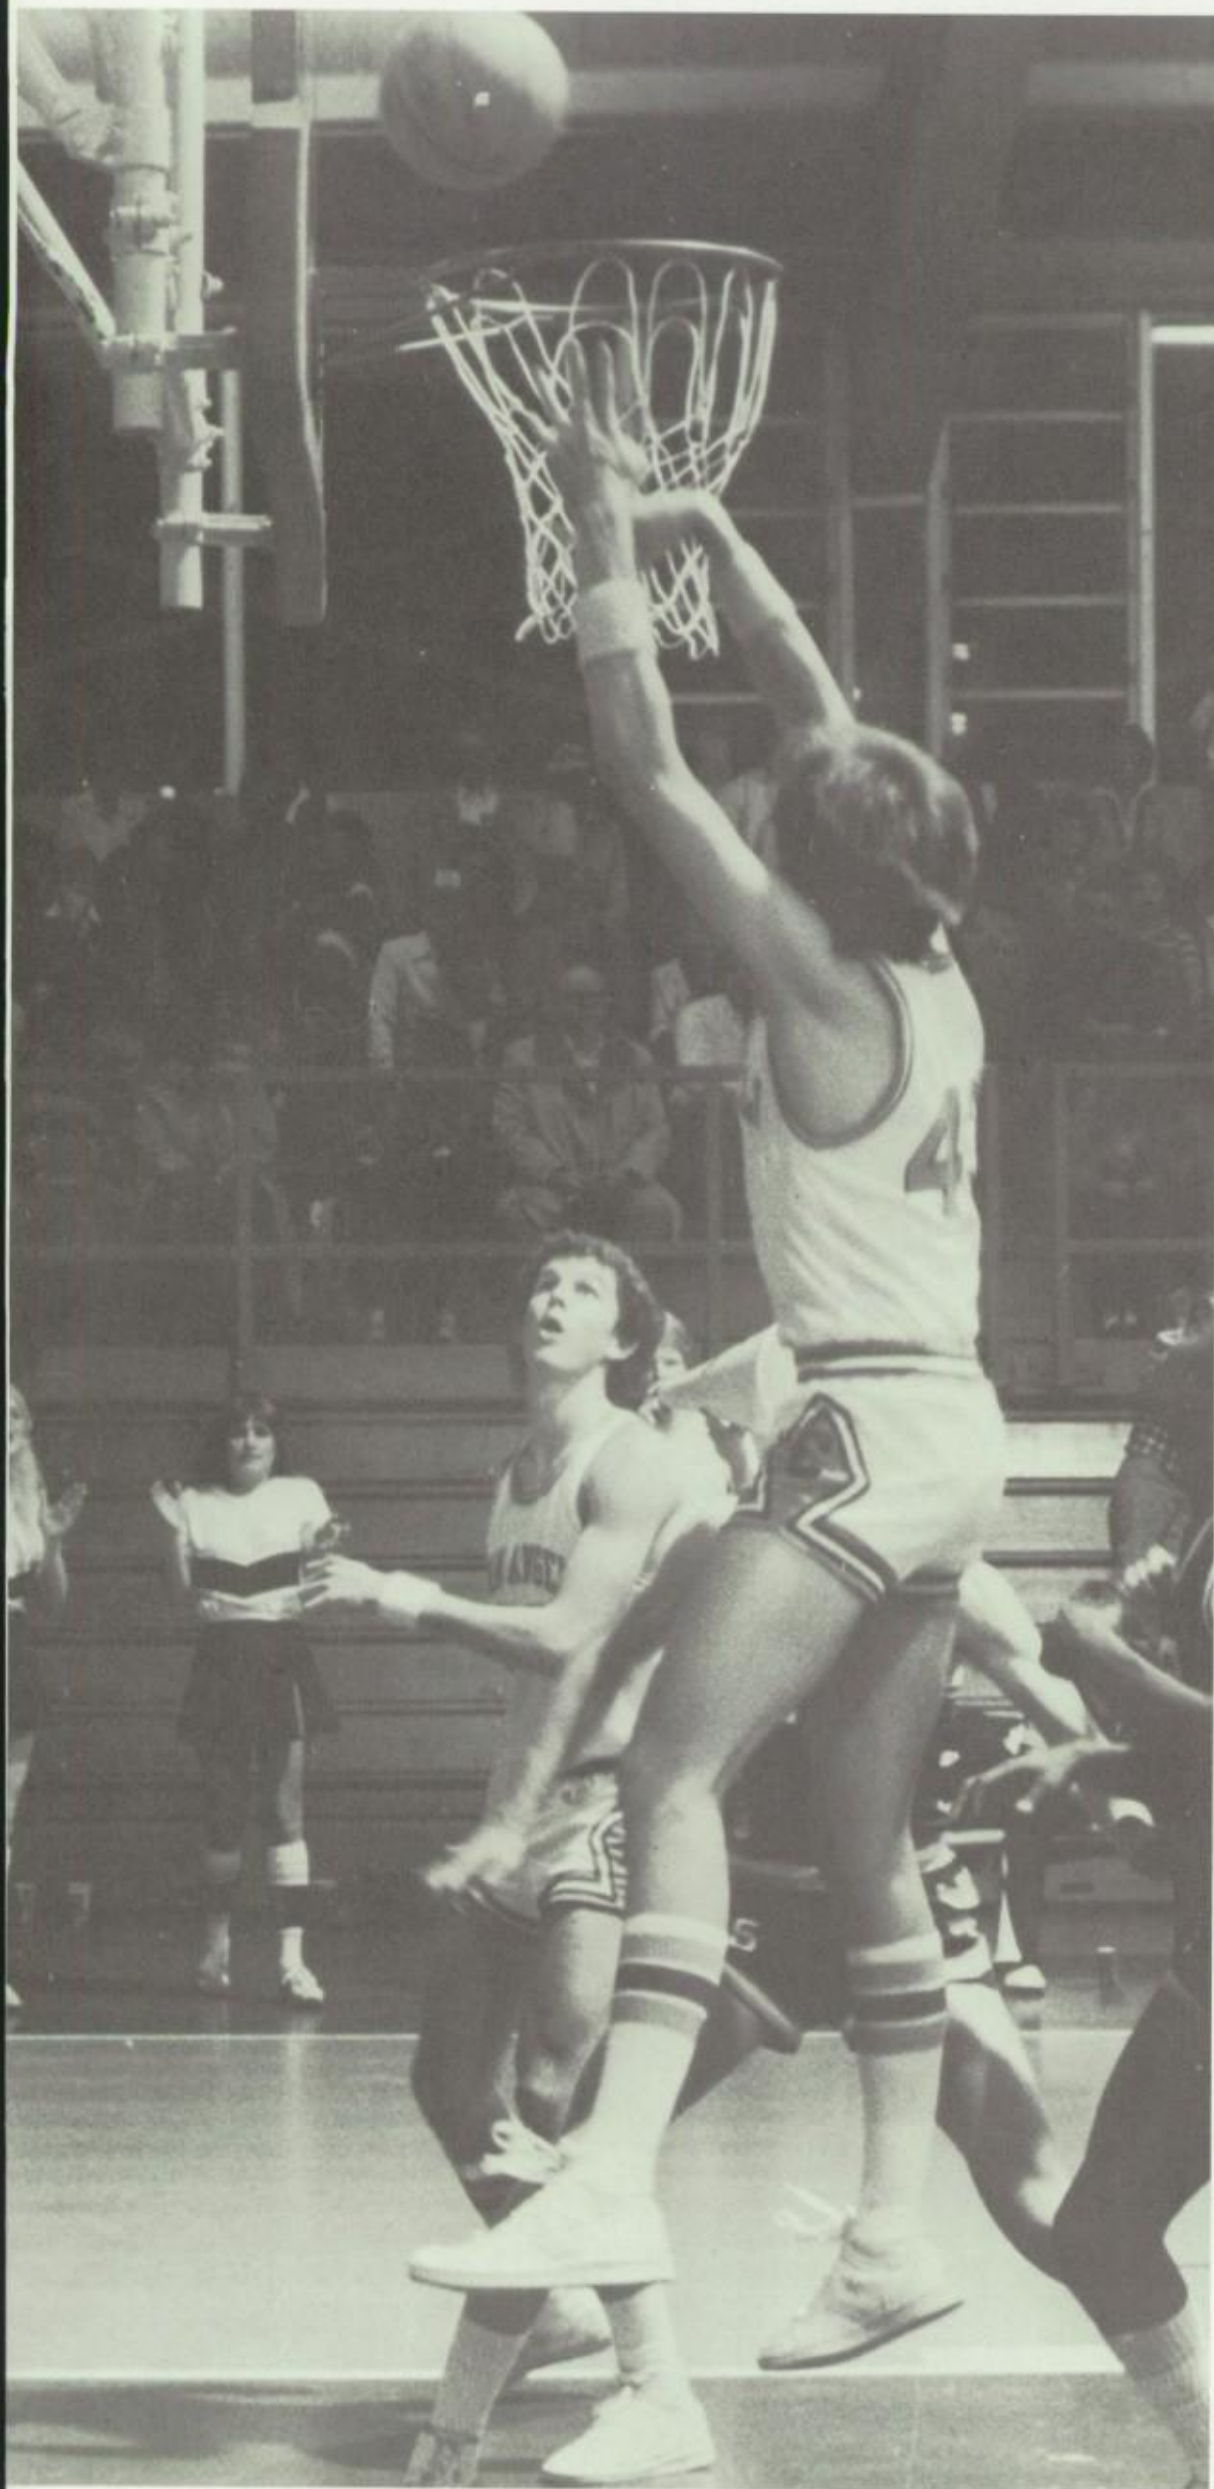

Cats Endure Obstacles

Enduring great obstacles, the Angry Orange basketball team returned to the play-off arena for the first time since 1963.

Suffering many heart-breaking overtime losses and the suspension of key players late in the season, the Cats experienced many ups and downs. In many instances through the season, the loss of one game could have put play-off dreams out of reach for the Cats. However, the strong persistence in the individual players to win conquered all fatigue that had mounted through the difficult season.

JV Cagers Capture Second

With a district record of 11-3, the boys' Junior Varsity basketball team ended their season as one of the tops in 4-5A competition. Coach David Moody's JV Cats battled it out for the second place title.

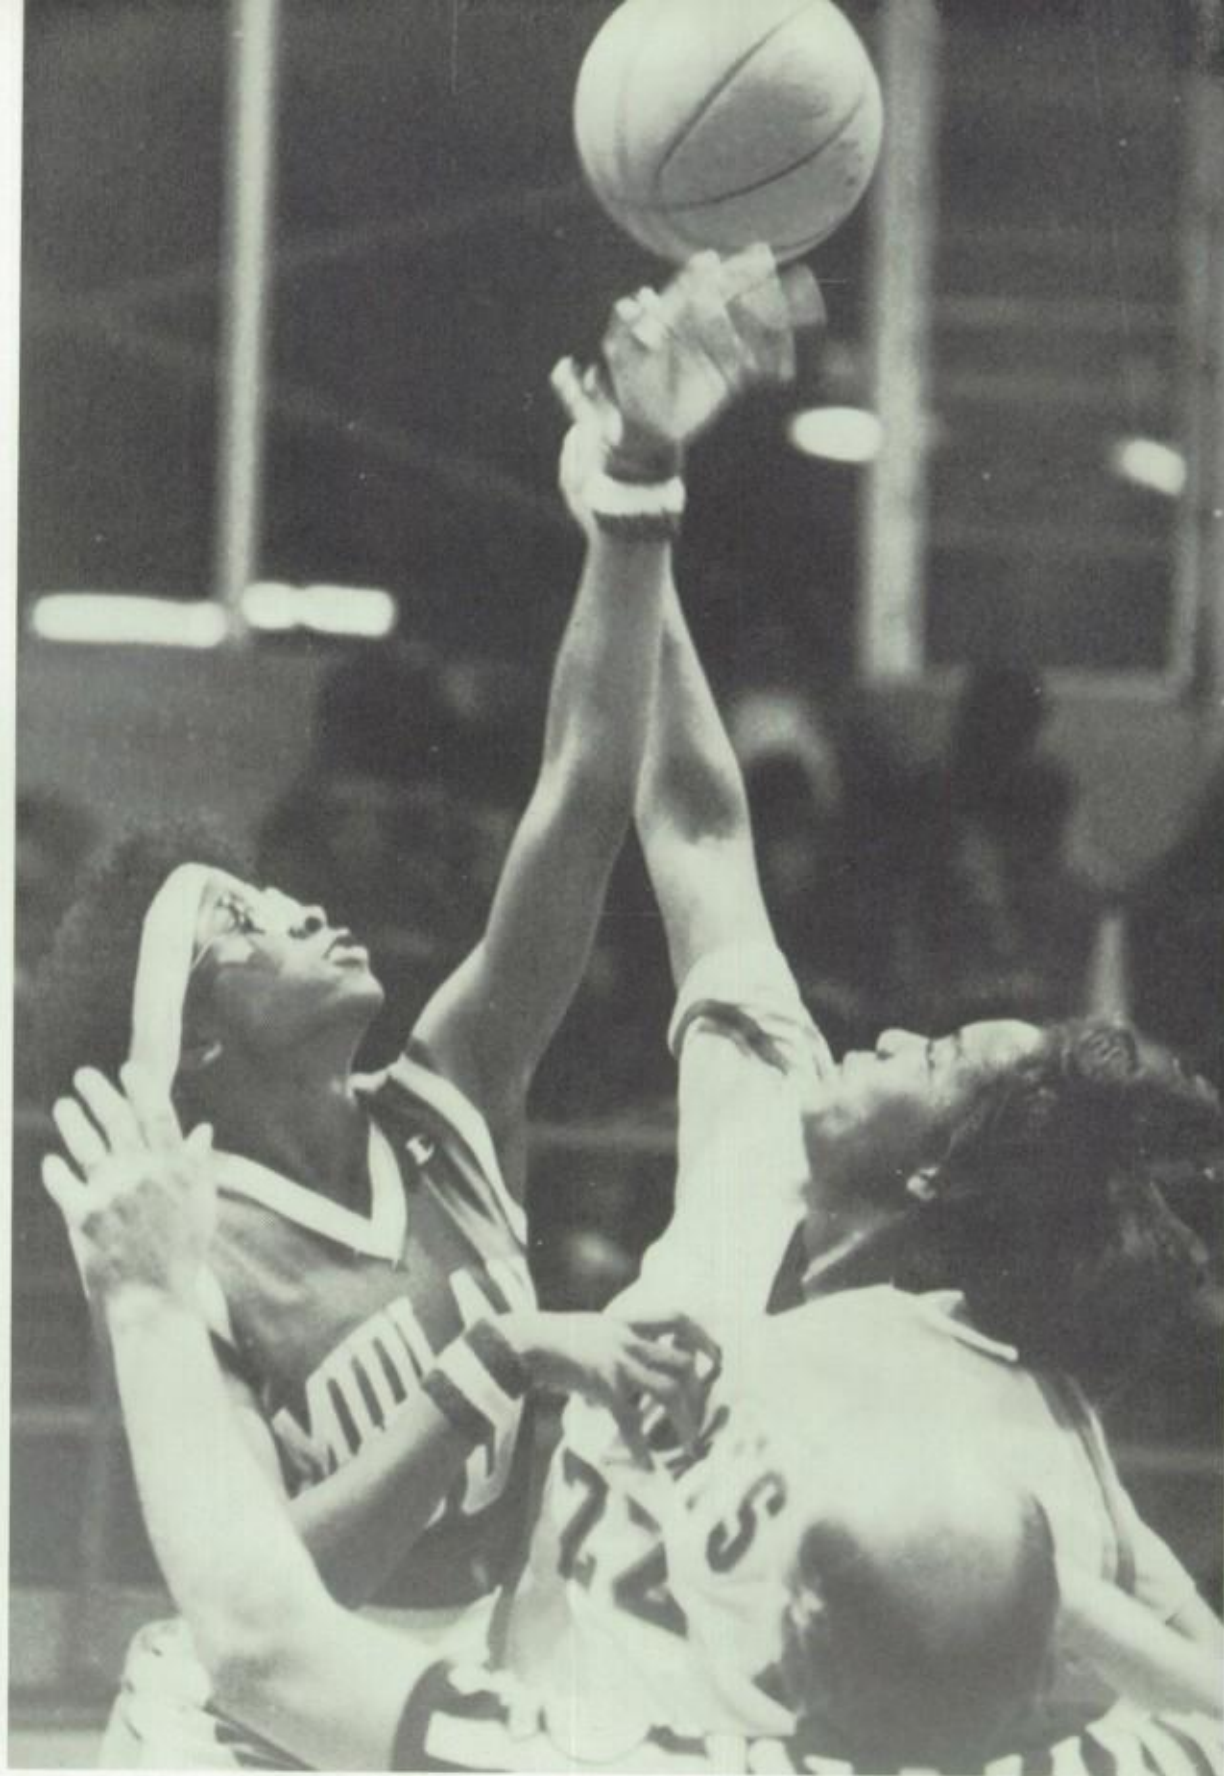

In tournament competition the Cats came home with two trophies. The JV squad emerged as the championship team at the Big Spring tournament. The Bobcats were also the consultation winners at the Midland JV tournament.

These young athletes will be the future varsity Bobcats, which will prove instrumental for Coach Rob Wylie's hunt for the 1984 post-season title.

had an identical record of 10-4. However, the girls were defeated in the special tie-breaker play-off game.

During the season, the girls took top honors at the Merkel tournament.

Other players who contributed to the Lady Cats victories were Teresa Champlin, Betty Espinosa, Yvette Guerrero, Teresa Harrington, Angie Hogue, Bambi Lopez, Val Schlaudt, and Ulinda Young.

During the season, the girls captured top positions in most of their district meets. The team defeated Odessa Permian, Oct. 26 and again Jan. 15, at the Midland Invitational Swim Meet, where they also defeated Midland High. In December, the girls placed second at the Odessa Swimming and Diving Invitational.

At the Odessa March 4-5 tournament, the boys' doubles team of Collins and Astudillo again captured top honors.

In district competition in Midland April 8-9, Collins and Astudillo placed second in boys' A doubles which qualified the duo for regional competition. Ms. Carpenter finished with fourth position in district in girls' A singles.

players in past years. Although the duo did compete in singles in district play, they only entered doubles at regionals.

Collins ended the season with a 23-10 record, losing only once in the singles events.
